

Washes, Rivers, Arroyos & Creeks!

There are dozens of washes around Tucson. Some are big, some are small, but they all can be dangerous, especially during the rainy season.

Can you name these Tucson area watercourses?

- |          |           |
|----------|-----------|
| 1. _____ | 8. _____  |
| 2. _____ | 9. _____  |
| 3. _____ | 10. _____ |
| 4. _____ | 11. _____ |
| 5. _____ | 12. _____ |
| 6. _____ | 13. _____ |
| 7. _____ | 14. _____ |

Go to www.rfcd.pima.gov/fpm and you can watch a cool video of the Silvercroft Wash filling up with monsoon runoff in only 90 seconds!

ANSWERS:

- |                     |                             |                                  |                  |
|---------------------|-----------------------------|----------------------------------|------------------|
| 1. Santa Cruz River | 6. Tanque Verde Creek       | 11. Rincon Creek                 | 14. Julian Wash  |
| 2. Carada del Oro   | 7. Arroyo Chico             | 12. West Branch Santa Cruz River | 13. Airport Wash |
| 3. Pima Wash        | 8. Tucson Diversion Channel | 13. Airport Wash                 | 14. Julian Wash  |
| 4. Rillito Creek    | 9. Alamo Wash               |                                  |                  |
| 5. Sabino Creek     | 10. Pantano Wash            |                                  |                  |

For more information about flood safety visit www.rfcd.pima.gov

